

Orientation Programme for Newly Admitted B.A./ B.Sc./ B.Com. Semester-I Students

An Orientation Programme for newly admitted Semester-I students of Ananda Mohan College was held on 7 July 2026 (Tuesday) to familiarise them with the academic structure, facilities, and support services of the College. Students of B.A./B.Sc. and B.Com. Major and Minor courses attended separate sessions in Rooms 5 and 6, coordinated by Dr. Sounak Dutta, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry and Mrs. Debolina Chakraborty, SACT, Department of Commerce, respectively. The programme featured addresses by the Principal, IQAC Coordinator, Admission Committee Convenor, senior faculty members, and representatives of various institutional committees.

A dedicated session by Dr. Dhiman Mondal, Librarian, introduced the newly admitted students to the College Library and its resources and facilities, along with the relevant rules and regulations. The session aimed to familiarise students with the Library as an important academic and information-support facility during their undergraduate studies.

As Convener of the Website Committee, Dr. Dhiman Mondal also provided an overview of the College website, demonstrating its different menus and sub-menus and explaining how students can access important academic and institutional information online. The orientation thus provided the new students with a practical introduction to the College's library and digital information resources, alongside its academic environment, facilities, and support services, helping them begin their undergraduate journey with greater awareness.
